Sub: Promotion under Annual System

Sir/Madam,

I am directed to inform you that as per existing rules of promotion in BA/B.Sc./B.Com and similar courses a student who is placed under re-appear / compartment in one subject is promoted to the next higher class. A student who fails in more than one subject the result is declared as fail and such students are not promoted to higher class. Simultaneously in MA/M.Sc./M.Com and other similar courses a student of 1st year is promoted to 2nd year if he/she has passed at least 2/3 theory papers out of 4/5, 6/7 paper of 1st Semester.

Keeping in view the liberalization policy of promotion under semester system, the Vice-Chancellor after considering the above issue of promotion in UG/PG and similar courses under annual system has ordered, in anticipation approval of Academic Council / Executive Council, that the above requirement may be done away with and all such students be promoted to next higher class automatically, if otherwise eligible. This will not disturb the result of the students already declared. All such students may be allowed admission within ten days without imposing any late fee.

Yours faithfully,

Incharge (Academic)
